Patient data, measurement date and location

Camera image to detect media opacities that do not lead to an inconclusive measurement

Measurement values

Gaze charts to check gaze asymmetry

Evaluation of measurement values

Current software version and ROC age group selection

Screening result
If the screening result is “Refer”, the child should be referred to an ophthalmologist for a comprehensive eye examination

Customizable info graphic with space for your logo and contact details